

Lecture: “Heirloom Genealogy” with Show & Tell

Most families have some items that have been passed down through the generations. Whether worth a fortune or of no monetary value, each of these items has a story to tell about your family.

Long-time genealogist Lauren Maehrlein will discuss how you may be able to uncover glimpses into your family’s history by examining and researching your heirlooms.

Please bring an item of particular family history and/or sentimental value to this event. Together we will help you to uncover its hidden provenance.
